Welcome to one of the world's most memorable rail journeys

When the whistle blows in Glasgow's glass-roofed Queen Street station, and the train for Mallaig or Oban sets out, you are starting on a journey that will leave an abundance of memories to treasure.

On the way you'll see tiny villages, vast moors, towering mountains and historic glens. You'll see places you want to visit again, and explore more closely.

A line for all seasons...

all thanks to the vision and courage of the entrepreneurs, engineers and labourers who drove this track through some of Britain's most dramatic, beautiful and sometimes merciless terrain.

Glasgow to Crianlarich

Your journey starts at Glasgow Queen Street station, from where the train climbs in tunnel up Cowlairst Bank, turning left through Maryhill and Westerton and uphill to Kilpatrick, with the graceful lines of the Erskine Bridge in view. You're running parallel to the River Clyde, cradle of so many great ocean liners.

Then it's on to Bowling, where the Clyde estuary broadens before you.

Garelochhead

At Garelochhead Station you have a panoramic view of the Submarine Base. Soon on the left, you'll see slender Loch Long.

The jetty below is Finnart deep-water terminal, where tankers discharge their oil to be pumped by pipeline to Grangemouth, 60 miles away to the east.

Glencoe in the summer

Arrochar & Tarbet

A few minutes beyond Arrochar and Tarbet station, the bonnie banks of Loch Lomond appear on the right, dominated by Ben Lomond. Across the loch is Inversnaid, the area once roamed by Rob Roy MacGregor, legendary warrior, robber and folk hero. He used to question captives in a nearby cave – and he was prepared to dip them in the loch to extract information!

Crianlarich

Soon you'll see the Falls of Falloch on the right, and then you're in Crianlarich, where the line divides, with the western route swerving across to Oban, the north continuing up to Fort William and Mallaig.

SEE THE SIGHTS

Crianlarich to Oban

After Tyndrum Lower and the Fillan Water, the Oban line takes you through beautiful Glen Lochy to Dalmally, beyond which stands the ruin of Kilchurn Castle, ancient stronghold of Clan Campbell. You swerve round the head of Loch Awe and enter the Pass of Brander, which skirts the towering bulk of Ben Cruachan, where there is a hydro power scheme inside the mountain with a visitor centre. To the left is the River Awe, setting for Sir Walter Scott's romance 'The Highland Widow'.

Connel Ferry

Near Connel Ferry you can see the Falls of Lora, where the tidal waters flow over a ledge of rock at the narrow entrance to Loch Etive. Then sit back and enjoy the splendid views of Oban, now only a few minutes away.

Crianlarich to Fort William

At Crianlarich, the northbound fork of the West Highland Line climbs quickly to Upper Tyndrum and around Beinn Odhar to a unique Horseshoe Curve.

Bridge of Orchy

On then to Bridge of Orchy, well known to walkers and climbers. To your left is the ruin of Achallader Castle, stronghold of the Fletchers. At Gorton Crossing you start on to the wild Rannoch Moor, with its peat bogs, streams, lochans, boulders and ancient forests. The West Highland Way from Glasgow to Fort William skirts the moor, but only the railway crosses this vast wilderness; this was achieved by 'floating' the line across the moor on a mattress of tree roots, brushwood and thousands of tons of earth and ashes.

Rannoch

Pulling away from Rannoch, you can see the Horseshoe of Munros comprising of the Black Mount, away to the east is Schiehallion.

Corrour

At Corrour Summit you are 1350 feet above sea level - the highest point on the line. Corrour station was made famous in the hit film 'Trainspotting'.

Roy Bridge

Before Roy Bridge, look below the left-hand side of the line for the foaming waters of Monessie Gorge.

Spean Bridge

And just out of sight, past Spean Bridge, high on the hill to the right, stands the monument to the commandos, who trained here during the Second World War.

SEE THE SIGHTS

Ben Nevis looms ahead. At over 4406 feet, it's Britain's highest mountain, and big - its circumference at the base is 24 miles.

You'll see Inverlochy Castle before the train glides into Fort William.

Fort William to Mallaig

Banavie

At Banavie, the line crosses part of the Caledonian Canal, Britain's longest inland waterway, which links Fort William with Inverness. Look to the right and you'll see Neptune's Staircase, a remarkable series of canal locks.

Glenfinnan

The breathtaking curve of the 100 feet high Glenfinnan Viaduct sweeps you past the head of Loch Shiel and the monument to Bonnie Prince Charlie, marking the spot where he landed and unfurled his standard in 1745 to commence the Jacobite Rebellion.

The viaduct itself is a monument, as it's the first concrete viaduct ever built in Britain - by 'Concrete Bob' McAlpine. Latterly it has become renowned for appearing in several of the blockbuster 'Harry Potter' films. In 'Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets', the Hogwarts Express steamed across the viaduct. Harry and Ron miss the train and fly to Hogwarts in a car that zooms around, through the viaduct's arches. A further scene was filmed nearby showing Harry looking out over Loch Shiel and although unused in the cinema release, this scene can be seen on the DVD.

Arisaig

Past Arisaig, look over Loch Nan Ceall and see the islands of Rum and Eigg, with their distinctive flat tops.

Morar

At Morar, you cross Scotland's shortest river, which runs out of our deepest Loch - Loch Morar. To the left, you'll see the white sands of Morar, made famous in the 1983 film 'Local Hero'. Then you'll see the Atlantic waves rolling in, and you're in Mallaig.

If your final destination is not rail connected, ScotRail can still help.

PlusBus allows you unlimited bus travel in the area around your chosen PlusBus station*. So for example if you buy a ticket from Glasgow to 'Aberdeen PlusBus', this will give you travel by rail to Aberdeen, plus unlimited bus travel throughout Aberdeen for the rest of that day. PlusBus is available from the following stations in Scotland:

- Aberdeen
- Dumfries
- Elgin
- Glasgow
- Larbert
- Stirling
- Ayr
- Dundee
- Falkirk Grahamston
- Inverness
- Linlithgow
- Bathgate
- Dunfermline
- Falkirk High
- Kilmarnock
- Livingston North
- Cowdenbeath
- Edinburgh
- Fort William
- Kirkcaldy
- Perth

Our range of RailBus tickets is aimed at connecting you to specific towns which are not on the rail network, without the hassle of buying separate rail and bus tickets. For example, if you buy a ticket from Glasgow to Peterhead this allows you to travel by train to Aberdeen then onwards by bus to Peterhead, without buying two separate tickets for each part of your journey – saving you time and hassle! You can buy combined RailBus tickets to the following destinations:

- Aboyne
- Braemar
- Doune
- Galashiels
- Kirriemuir
- Portree
- Ullapool
- Ballater
- Callander
- Edinburgh Airport
- Glasgow Airport
- Lossiemouth
- St Andrews
- Westhill
- Banchory
- Crieff
- Forfar
- Hawick
- Peebles
- Selkirk
- Blairgowrie
- Dornoch
- Fraserburgh
- Kirkwall
- Peterhead
- Uig

ScotRail works closely with Scotland's ferry operators to provide combined RailFerry tickets. These are available to destinations across Scotland and beyond, including:

- Armadale
- Craignure
- Lochboisdale
- Belfast
- Dunoon
- Rothesay
- Brodick
- Kirkwall
- Stornoway
- Castlebay
- Lerwick
- Stromness

ScotRail also welcomes cyclists, and we carry cycles free on all our services. Reservations are required on some longer distance routes, and these can be made at principal staffed stations or through ScotRail Telesales on 08457 55 00 33. We recommend that you make reservations as early as possible to avoid disappointment - they are generally available up to 12 weeks in advance of travel.

On most other routes, reservations are not necessary, but space is limited on some trains. For full information, pick up our ScotRail Guide for Cyclists, available at staffed stations. This also includes information about the ScotRail cycle rescue service, plus our discounted cycle hire scheme in Fort William.

* Some special services such as Airport express routes and Night buses are excluded. Some smaller bus operators do not participate in PlusBus schemes – for more details, visit www.plusbus.info

Buying your ticket

To avoid any queues, you can buy your ticket in advance at www.scotrail.co.uk, or by calling our Telesales team on 08457 55 00 33 between 0700 and 2200, seven days a week. All major credit cards and charge cards are accepted.

Seat reservations

Reservations are free when you buy a ticket to travel on ScotRail services. It's always wise to try to book your seat. Reservations are available on many of our longer distance routes and are available up to 12 weeks in advance.

Bank & Public holidays

Some services may alter on Bank or Public holidays. Please check our website at www.scotrail.co.uk, or call National Rail Enquiries on 08457 48 49 50 before travelling (Please note calls to this number may be recorded).

Disabled Assistance

If you are disabled and would benefit from a little extra help when using our services, you can arrange assistance by calling our Helpline on 0800 912 2 901. You can get details on facilities and accessibility at all our stations from our website, from staffed stations or from our Customer Relations Team. Timetables in large-type format are also available - call 0845 601 5929. Typetalk is also available for the hard of hearing on 18001 0800 912 2 901.

Help us to make your journey as safe as possible

- Ensure that you give yourself enough time to catch your train and never try to board or leave trains while doors are closing or the door closing alarm is sounding (doors close 30 seconds before departure).
- Please take the time to read the safety notices on-train as these contain information on emergency egress.
- Take care while walking in stations, and use handrails.
- Keep your luggage with you at all times and store securely while on-train.
- Mind the gap when boarding and alighting trains and be aware that some trains may be longer than the platform at stations on this route.

Please note, all ScotRail services and covered areas of stations are non-smoking.

Pick up our 'Travelling Safely' leaflet or visit our website for more information.

Changing trains at stations

If you're changing trains at a station on our network, please allow at least five minutes for your connection, 10 minutes at Edinburgh Waverley and Glasgow Queen Street, 15 minutes at Glasgow Central and 30 minutes for the cross-city transfer between Glasgow Queen Street and Glasgow Central. A special cross-city bus service between Glasgow Queen Street and Glasgow Central is available free to valid ticket holders. Customers without a valid rail ticket are also welcome to use this service but must pay the relevant fare.

Pick up a copy of our Travel Connections booklet for detailed information on Airport, bus and ferry links.

Please note that trains may divide en route - please check with staff that you are in the correct portion of the train.
